THE CONNECTED FUTURE EMEA: AGENCIES & ADDRESSABILITY 2021

Virtual Event Highlights & Video Replays

On Tuesday 29 June, Lotame hosted The Connected Future EMEA: Agencies & Addressability, a virtual event created for agencies of all sizes in the EMEA region. It brought together nearly 100 senior executives from Lotame’s agency and marketer client base, as well as prospective clients and industry peers. The afternoon was action-packed with two hours of timely content. The Connected Future tackled topics like addressability beyond the cookie, data enrichment, evolving cookieless audience solutions, and identity.

Recorded Sessions

If you missed the live session or simply want to revisit your virtual experience, we’ve compiled the video recordings below. Plus, we included a bonus session “Agency Guide to Understanding Identity Solutions” that was not presented at the event!

GENERAL SESSIONS

Addressability Beyond the Cookie

From FLoC to contextual, deterministic to probabilistic, confused yet on which solution is which? Our resilient industry has worked hard to provide several alternatives to the third-party cookie. But it’s confusing as hell. As an agency, the brands you support are looking to you for answers. Make sure you have them! In this session, Eliza Nevers, Lotame’s SVP of Product, breaks down available offerings into easy-to-understand terms, and highlights potential pros and cons. She was joined by The Trade Desk’s Director of Data Partnerships EMEA, Oliver Boyd, for a deeper dive into alternative identity solutions, the future of addressability and the power of collaboration for the open web.

Panel: Data Enrichment Is Alive and Well

First-party data is all the rage. While certainly valuable, it only presents one flavor of a customer for a brand. That’s where data enrichment comes in. Third-party data is alive and well — and available as ever, thanks to identity solutions. Join key agency executives and Hashmi Navin, Lotame’s Client Success Director EMEA, as they discuss the importance of identity coupled with data enrichment to drive the business outcomes brands want.
